Sean Penn edit notes:

In September of 2005, Penn traveled to [[New Orleans]] to help out, but ending up failing. His approximately sized 4-man boat (filled with him and 3 or 4 others including a personal photographer) started sinking within minutes after departing down the water ways. Finally, after several attempts by the white flak vest wearing Penn to use a red plastic cup to bail water out of the boat, the leak was stopped and the mission continued. Immediately after this however, the motor would not start and they attempted to paddle down the river instead. It is quite amazing how a guy with millions of dollars managed to get his hands on a leaky near broken boat and have his personal photographer and crew come down to New Orleans to "save" people. It has been rumored that Sean did this to boost his image. Way to go Sean!

In September of 2005, Penn traveled to [[New Orleans]] to aid Hurricane Katrina victims. His 4-man sized boat started sinking within minutes after departing down the water ways. After several attempts by Penn to use a red plastic cup to bail water out of the boat, the leak was stopped and the mission continued. Moments later the motor would not start and they attempted to paddle down the river instead. It has been rumored that Sean did this to boost his image.
